OVERVIEW

Occupying an exceptional position on one of Notting Hill’s most desirable residential streets, this impressive four-bedroom townhouse offers substantial and versatile accommodation in the heart of W11. Arranged with three bathrooms, multiple living spaces and a private roof terrace, the property is offered furnished and combines elegant character with the space and flexibility required for modern family living.

The house provides an excellent balance of entertaining and private accommodation, with a generous principal reception room complemented by an additional reception room, offering considerable flexibility for use as a family room, formal dining room, home office or further entertaining space. Large windows and attractive proportions provide excellent natural light, while the part-furnished arrangement allows incoming residents to personalise the home to suit their own style.
